Inspired by the international hit BBC crime drama, Luther, starring The Wire’s Idris Elba

Meet Detective Chief Inspector John Luther.
He’s a murder detective. A near-genius.
He’s obsessional.
He’s dangerous.

DCI John Luther has an extraordinary clearance rate. He commands outstanding loyalty from friends and colleagues. Yet beneath the surface, Luther seethes with uncontrollable fury. Sometimes it sends him to the brink of madness, making him do things he shouldn’t; things way beyond the limits of the law.

Luther: The Calling, the first in a new series of novels, takes us into Luther’s past and into his mind. It is the story of the case that tore his personal and professional relationships apart and propelled him over the precipice. Beyond fury, beyond vengeance. All the way to murder…

NEIL CROSS is an acclaimed novelist and the creator and sole writer of the international hit BBC series Luther. He was previously a lead writer for Spooks and continues to write widely for the screen.

The heart-racing adventure that began in Child 44 and The Secret Speech reaches its epic conclusion…

Moscow, 1965. Former Secret Service agent Leo Demidov is forbidden to travel with his wife and daughters to New York as part of a 'Peace Tour', meant to foster better relations between the two Cold War enemies. Leo's natural paranoia reaches its peak: Why have his family been selected? What is being planned?

When Leo's worst fears are realised and a tragedy destroys everything he loves, he demands only one thing: that he is allowed to investigate and find the attacker. But with his request denied, Leo sees no other option than to take matters into his own hands, whatever the cost…

In a surprising, thrilling story that spans decades and continents – from the festering backstreets of 1960s New York to the dusty villages of Afghanistan in the 1980s – Leo will be forced to the very limits of his sanity as he hunts down those responsible for tearing his life apart.

TOM ROB SMITH was born in 1979 to a Swedish mother and an English father and was brought up in London where he still lives.

Featuring Forensic Investigator Reilly Steel

Prepare to be chilled to the bone…

Forensic investigator Reilly Steel, Quantico-trained and California-born and bred, imagined Dublin to be a far cry from bustling San Francisco. She's arrived in Ireland to drag the Irish crime lab into the 21st century, plus keep tabs on her Irish-born father who's increasingly seeking solace in the bottle after a family tragedy.

But a brutal serial killer soon puts paid to that. When a young man and woman are found dead in an apartment, the gunshot wounds on their naked bodies suggest a suicide pact. As more bodies are discovered, the team soon realises that a twisted murderer is at work, one who seeks to upset society's norms in the most sickening way imaginable…

CASEY HILL is the pseudonym of husband and wife Melissa and Kevin Hill. Melissa is already a number 1 bestseller in her native Ireland with her novels about contemporary women's lives.

Who will live, who must die? The past will decide.

From the bestselling author of The Reluctant Hero.

An international conspiracy starts in the Swiss Alps, where a teenage girl is thrown from a helicopter and her boyfriend, Ruari, is brutally abducted. Yet this is no ordinary kidnap; it is about power, not money.

Ruari's father is in possession of knowledge that can make or break leaders around the globe. When Ruari disappears, his father is left powerless while his mother turns to Harry Jones, the lover she walked out on many years ago.

Those years have been filled with controversy for Harry, a former soldier. Along the way he's gathered powerful admirers but also bitter adversaries, who will neither forgive nor forget. Much more than one life is at stake as the past comes back to decide who will live, and how many will not.

MICHAEL DOBBS is the author of 15 thrillers including the huge bestseller House of Cards. He lives near Salisbury in Wiltshire.

When archaeologist Lucy Morgan uncovers a 7000-year-old tomb on a dig in a remote part of Israel, she realises she has stumbled across something that will re-write history. That's before she's knocked unconscious.

Pastor Kelvin Patterson, head of one of America's biggest fundamentalist churches, has known of such discoveries for some time but in his eyes these skeletons are not aliens but angels.

In Washington DC, two detectives come across three bodies, rotting in a sweltering apartment. So why is it that they appear to have died of hypothermia?

With so much at stake only one man can be called upon to help. Troubled Ethan Warner, war correspondent and former Marine, had hoped to put his action days behind him. But when he is asked by Lucy's mother to find her, he knows he cannot let her down.

DEAN CRAWFORD originally pursued a career as a fighter-pilot in the Royal Air Force, but was unable to gain a commission due to eye problems. He was still searching for a career that he could follow with the same passion when he stumbled across the idea for Covenant.

A lost child. A ruthless killer.

When a little girl is abducted from a crowded train one rainy Swedish summer, despite hundreds of potential witnesses, no one saw her being taken. Her mother had been left behind at the previous station in what seemed to be a coincidence. The train crew were alerted and kept a watchful eye on the sleeping child. But as the train pulled into Stockholm Central Station, the girl was nowhere to be seen.

Inspector Alex Recht and his team of federal investigators, assisted by investigative analyst Frederika Bergman, are assigned to the case. When the child is found dead in the far north of Sweden with the word ‘Unwanted’ scribbled on her forehead, the case soon turns into the team’s worst nightmare – the pursuit of a clever yet vicious killer.

The second part of the Paul Dark trilogy, this sequel to the critically acclaimed Free Agent is another sweat-soaked Sixties-set spy thriller in the tradition of Len Deighton and Frederick Forsyth

It is May 1969, and MI6 double agent Paul Dark stands alongside mourners at the funeral of Sir Colin Templeton; the former head of the organisation, the man he knew simply as 'Chief' – and the man he killed in cold blood.

Dark has got away with it, evading the attentions of both his fellow British spies and the KGB operatives to whom he long ago pledged loyalty. But that precarious security is about to be shattered, launching Dark back into the heart of an international conspiracy and making him a target for both exposure and assassination.

When a block is torn down in Minneapolis to make way for a new housing development, an unpleasant surprise is unearthed. The bodies of two girls, wrapped in plastic, are discovered underneath an old house. It looks like they've been down there a long time. Lucas Davenport knows exactly how long.

In 1985, Davenport was part of the massive police effort that followed the kidnapping of two girls who were never found again. The searches turned up nothing, so when the suspected kidnapper was killed in a shoot-out, the case was closed.

But Davenport was deeply involved in the case, and while he was convinced the suspect knew something, he didn't think he was the perpetrator. But now the bodies have been discovered, investigations are reopened. Soon it becomes clear: it wasn't just the bodies that were buried, but the truth – and there are a lot of people with a very strong stake in never being uncovered.

The past cannot remain buried forever

When the village of Priors Bramley was closed off for chemical-weapons testing during the Cold War, a long history of dark secrets was also shut away. Now, the village has been declared safe again.

Ella Haywood, who used to play in the village as a child, is haunted by the discovery of two bodies. All those years ago, something happened in the village that she vowed to keep secret. But the past has a habit of forcing the truth to the surface.

With the identity of the bodies drawing increasing local interest, Ella will have to resort to ever more drastic measures if she is to make sure that no one discovers what really happened all those years ago.

Number 1 bestselling author Philippa Gregory continues her series, The Cousins' War, with Jacquetta Woodville, mother of the White Queen

Jacquetta, kinswoman to half the royalty of Europe, was married to John, Duke of Bedford, uncle to Henry VI. Widowed at the age of nineteen, she took the extraordinary risk of marrying a gentleman of her household for love, and then carved out a life for herself as Queen Margaret of Anjou's close friend and a Lancaster supporter – until the day that her daughter Elizabeth Woodville married the rival king Edward IV.

Of all the little-known but important women of the period, her dramatic story is the most neglected. With her links to Melusina, and to the founder of the house of Luxembourg, together with her reputation for making magic, she is the most haunting of heroines.

PHILIPPA GREGORY is an internationally renowned writer of historical novels, including The Other Boleyn Girl which was made into a major film in 2008. She lives in the North of England with her family. The White Queen and The Red Queen were both No. 1 bestsellers.

Five intriguing interlinked mysteries from the Medieval Murderers group

Cerdic, a young boy with a rare gift, has a mysterious treasure in his possession. A blind old woman gave him a knife with an ivory bear hilt – the symbol of King Arthur – and told him that when the time came he would know what to do with it. Soon after, he and his brother, Baradoc, are enlisted into the king’s army, and find themselves on Solsbury Hill.

Over the centuries, Solsbury Hill gains a reputation for being the scene for murders, thefts and hauntings. Can the archeologists of today piece together what history has left behind? Or are some mysteries destined to remain forever unsolved?

THE MEDIEVAL MURDERERS are Karen Maitland, Bernard Knight, Susanna Gregory, Philip Gooden and Ian Morson.

O is a novel about aspiration and delusion, set during the presidential election of 2012 and written by an anonymous author who has spent years observing politics and the fraught relationship between public image and self-regard. The novel includes revealing and insightful portraits of many prominent figures in the political world – some invented and some real.

As a work of speculative fiction, the details in O will soon be overtaken by events. But no chronicle is more likely to convey the interior life of the 2012 campaign – the issues they will confront, the compromises they will make, the lengths to which they will go for victory. O is a fascinating, entertaining and darkly intriguing novel for anyone who wants to understand what the President and his team are really thinking.

The author of O has been in the room with Barack Obama and wishes to remain anonymous.

It begins with a door in a dusky corner of a basement in a rambling Victorian house in northern New Hampshire. A door that someone has sealed shut with thirty-nine enormous bolts.

The home's new owners are Chip and Emily Linton and their twin daughters. Chip was an airline pilot until he was forced to crash land on a lake the jet he was flying after double engine failure. Thirty-nine people on the plane died that day – a coincidence not lost on Chip when he discovers the number of bolts on the basement door of their new house...

Meanwhile, his wife is increasingly troubled about the women living locally, self-proclaimed 'herbalists'. Why do they seem excessively interested in her daughters? She is terrified, too, that her husband's grip on sanity is becoming increasingly tenuous in the wake of the accident.

A heretical legacy. A dangerous sacrifice.

Worldwide controversy surrounds author Maureen Paschal as she promotes her new bestseller – the explosive account of her discovery of a gospel written by Jesus Christ. But in Florence, under the guidance of her teacher, Destino, Maureen discovers the fascinating story of Lorenzo de’ Medici – the godfather of the Renaissance. During his lifetime, Lorenzo worked to create a body of work which would preserve a series of ancient secrets – secrets too dangerous to be committed to writing.

But Maureen’s most explosive discovery affects her lover, Berenger, who shares an extraordinary legacy with Lorenzo de’ Medici and has a destiny to fulfil. But Medici’s secrets were hidden for a reason, and there are those who will stop at nothing to prevent Maureen and Berenger and destroy the heresy once and for all.

One week, four dinner parties and some very competitive hosts. Surely a recipe for disaster…

Rosie challenges her friends to their very own version of Come Dine With Me – four couples each hosting a dinner party, with a prize for the best one. Her husband Stephen isn't keen, but Rosie can't wait.

What Rosie doesn't anticipate are the lengths her fellow hosts will go to for the prize – outlandish recipes, rare ingredients, and a chocolate tart that looks just too good to be homemade…But perhaps she should be more worried about the mounting tension, as backbiting breaks out over the appetisers and a glass of wine too many leads to indiscreet flirtation. As the pressure in the kitchen rises, relationships begin to crack under strain, and the oven gloves come off…But that's all part of the fun. Isn't it?

Though they’re oceans apart, love will bring them together again

Scotland, 1766. Angus McTern had everything he wanted in life. Despite the fact that his grandfather gambled away the family’s land, he still takes his duties as laird seriously. However, when the legal heiress to the castle, the beautiful Edilean Talbot, arrives, Angus’s peaceful existence is shaken up forever…

From the beginning, Angus acts coolly towards Edilean. He resents her privileged upbringing, and is angered by the way his whole clan seems to worship her. But when one day her entire inheritance is stolen and she desperately needs his help, Angus is forced to take drastic measures to help the young woman.

A breathtaking story from the bestselling author of A Place of Secrets

Documentary maker Anna travels to Cornwall, to interview an old lady called Beatrix Martyn. Beatrix tells Anna the story of her life, how she grew up playing with the children from nearby Carolyn House – especially pretty, blonde Angelina. Walking by the sea one day, Beatrix spies a group of young people whose boat is caught up in a storm, and manages to rescue one, handsome Rafe, from drowning. They become friends, but, to Beatrix's dismay, Rafe falls in love with Angelina.

Then war comes, and Rafe joins the RAF. Heartbroken, Beatrix joins FANY. When Rafe fails to return from a bombing mission, Beatrix prepares to set out and rescue him for the second time – even if it means disobeying orders. Will Anna discover what happened to Rafe? And how will the answer help Anna decide what to do in her own life?

The first in an epic new science fiction series from the internationally bestselling co-authors of the Dune prequels

Only the most desperate would make a home on Hellhole, a nightmare planet ravaged by natural disasters. Persistent volcanic eruptions, devastating dust storms and recent asteroid impacts make it the dumping ground for misfits and undesirables, but its location on the wild frontiers of the Constellation among the Deep Zone worlds also makes it a refuge for those fleeing from the rule of the tyrant Diadem.

When General Adolphus is exiled to Hellhole after defeat in the first revolution against the Diadem, he plans to transform the battered world into a new seat of rebel power with the help of the resilient colonists. He then discovers something that could have incredible repercussions: lurking beneath the surface of the planet are the remnants of an obliterated alien civilization, which, if unearthed, could tear the fragile human civilization apart.

The son of Frank Herbert, BRIAN HERBERT is now a bestselling SF author. KEVIN J. ANDERSON has over 20 million books in print in 30 languages worldwide.

A compelling memoir of a young man who emerged from the darkness after doctors had given up on him

Aged twelve, Martin Pistorius fell inexplicably sick: not eating, sleeping constantly and withdrawing from life altogether. Within eighteen months he was mute and wheelchair-bound, but no-one knew that while Martin's body remained unresponsive his mind had woken up; he was a prisoner inside a body.

Then, in 1998, an aromatherapist realised that his mind was alert. Experts were dismissive but his parents persevered and today, against all odds, Martin is married and living in Essex with his own design business.

Ghost Boy is the incredible, deeply moving story of recovery and the power of love.

MARTIN PISTORIUS was born in South Africa and now lives in Essex with his wife.

A unique female memoir, Borstal Girl is a true story of shocking violence and survival that pulls no punches. It is also a secret criminal history of a London long past

By the time Eileen was fourteen she had survived the Blitz, a care home and her mother's death, and soon found herself on the wrong side of the law. Known as 'Kill', she had a reputation as one of the hardest woman behind bars. Then, in the 1950s, she met and married career criminal Harry 'Big H' MacKenney, and was soon fraternising with the toughest, most colourful characters in the London underworld.

This is the autobiography of a genuine South London 'hard girl' who did the crime, and the time, in borstal and Holloway in the 1940s and '50s and went on to mix with London's most notorious gangsters.

EILEEN MACKENNEY was born in London in 1931.

A sparkling collection of stories, reminiscences and rather good jokes, interspersed with inventive character monologues, I Must Collect Myself is Maureen Lipman at her wittiest

Together with twenty-one monologues, introducing some unforgettable characters including the excitable wannabe auditioning in Brittney’s Got Talent, Sheila the unintentionally smutty art tutor and the bitter American army wife drowning in the English home counties, Maureen has added many wonderful new pieces about her unpredictable life alongside some of her best Guardian newspaper columns. The stories may be new but the astute take on life remains as sharp as ever. Maureen muses on the London bombings, grieves for her late husband, Jack, admires Aung San Suu Kyi’s steadfastness, falls for a snowy owl and ponders ‘Princess Di’s memorial wet patch’.

Maureen Lipman’s I Must Collect Myself is as clever, funny and acute as the woman herself.

The actress and author has triumphed in television, films, on stage and in print. She was married to Bafta Award-winning Jack Rosenthal, who died in 2004. In 1999, MAUREEN LIPMAN was awarded a CBE and she has won numerous awards for her theatrical and television work.

The Legend of Colton H Bryant
978-1-84739-331-9

Here, in one book, is the sequel and the prequel to the hugely successful Don’t Let’s Go to the Dogs Tonight

Alexandra’s parents were a glamorous and optimistic couple who saw East Africa laid before them full of promise, even as the British Empire waned. But Africa was no longer the playground of Nicola’s childhood and war and sorrow dogged them.

In their old age the Fullers lived on a banana and fish farm in the Zambezi Valley. They had built their ramshackle dining room under the Tree of Forgetfulness, where villagers resolved their disputes. There Nicola finally forgot – but did not forgive – all her enemies, including her daughter Alexandra.

Funny, tragic, terrifying, exotic and utterly unselfconscious, this is a story of survival and madness, love and war, passion and compassion.

ALEXANDRA FULLER was born in England in 1969. She now lives in Wyoming with her three children.

The intimate and startlingly candid memoir from one of America's most beloved and private first ladies

In a captivating and compelling voice that ranks with many of our greatest memoirists, Laura Bush tells the story of her unique path from dusty Midland, Texas, to the world stage and the White House.

As First Lady of the United States, Laura Bush captures presidential life in the frantic and fearful months after 9-11, when fighter jet cover echoed out through the walls. She writes openly about the threats, the withering media spotlight, and the transformation of her role.

Laura Bush's compassion, her grace, and her uncommon willingness to bare her heart make this story deeply revelatory, beautifully rendered, and unlike any other First Lady's memoir ever written.

'Frank, well-written and poignant… it should be compulsory reading for Mesdames Cameron and Clegg, with its lesson in the pains and pitfalls of office, and hints at what can be achieved even by those wearing lipstick at the edge of the frame'
THE TIMES

LAURA BUSH is the former First Lady of the United States. She lives in Dallas, Texas.

A BIOGRAPHY

A thorough and up-to-date biography of Nelson Mandela by Africa scholar Martin Meredith

Nelson Mandela stands out as one of the most admired political figures of the twentieth century. It was his leadership and moral courage above all that helped to deliver a peaceful end to apartheid in South Africa after years of racial division and violence and to establish their fledgling democracy.

Now Martin Meredith has revisited and significantly updated his critically acclaimed biography to incorporate a decade of additional perspective and hindsight on the man and his legacy and to examine how far his hopes for the new South Africa have been realised.

MARTIN MEREDITH is the author of many books including The State of Africa: A History of Fifty Years of Independence; Mugabe: Power, Plunder, and the Struggle for Zimbabwe, and Diamonds, Gold and War: The Making of South Africa.

As lead guitarist and songwriter of Black Sabbath, Tony Iommi is one of the most influential musicians of the past four decades and the inventor of heavy metal. Black Sabbath went on to become a multi-million record-selling superband, and Iommi still has the scars from the drug-fuelled rock star lifestyle they led.

In Iron Man, Iommi goes on the record about Black Sabbath, in this exclusive account of the life and adventures of one of rock's greatest heroes.

Born in the midlands, TONY IOMMI is the co-founding member of Black Sabbath and creator of heavy metal, one of the most enduring and important British contributions to popular music.

THE MUSIC, THE MAKEUP, THE MADNESS, AND MORE....

In December of 1972, Ace Frehley read an advertisment in the Village Voice: 'Guitarist wanted with flash and ability.' Ace figured he had both, so he answered the ad. The rest is rock 'n' roll history.

In No Regrets, Kiss guitarist Ace Frehley offers a rare behind the makeup look at the band's legendary origins. He talks about the unspoken division within the band – he and Peter Criss versus Paul Stanley and Gene Simmons – because the other two didn't 'party every day'. Among stories of wild excess, Ace also reveals the truth about his turbulent break-up with the band and their triumphant reunion a decade later. He also comes to terms with his highly publicized descent into alcohol, drugs, and self destruction – ultimately managing to conquer his demons and come out on top. This is Ace Frehley. No makeup. No apologies. No regrets.

ACE FREHLEY is a founding member and former lead guitarist for the legendary band KISS, which has sold more than 100 million albums worldwide and is ranked among the top selling rock bands of all time. He is currently a solo artist.

The heartwarming story of Port Isaac's world-famous singing group The Fisherman's Friends

In March 2010 the lives of these Cornish folk singers were changed forever when they made a million-pound record deal and were booked to appear at Glastonbury. Their first album went gold and they have played live to hundreds of thousands of people.

The book will tell the story of how the boat came in for this group of burly middle-aged fishermen, lifeboatmen, coastguards and shopkeepers. Each member of the group has his own story and individual family history that tells of Cornwall's rugged landscape and the danger and bounty of the sea.

With a new album due out in summer 2011, this is an affectionate and timely autobiography.

The ten FISHERMAN'S FRIENDS all live within two miles of Port Isaac in Cornwall. The book is written in collaboration with ghostwriter and award-winning news reporter Robert Uhlig.

A STORY OF SURVIVAL ON ALASKAN SEAS

The action of the hit TV series Deadliest Catch combines with the personal saga of a Norwegian family in this tale of commercial fishermen on the Bering Sea

Captain Sig Hansen first went out onto the Bering Sea at the age of twelve, and has returned every season for four decades. With its brutal storms of forty-foot waves, freezing spray and treacherous ice-cover, the Bering Sea is deadly in its unpredictability. To be a successful fisherman, you need to be a mechanic, navigator, welder, painter, carpenter, and more. To be a successful fisherman, you need to be a survivor.

In the tradition of Sebastian Junger and Linda Greenlaw comes Captain Sig Hansen's rags-to-riches epic of his family's struggle against deadly Alaskan seas, freezing shipwrecks, and dangerously brutal conditions. Deadliest Waters is the multigenerational history of the Hansen family, a clan of tough Norwegian-American fishermen who have become modern day folk-heroes.

SIG HANSEN is the captain of the commercial fishing vessel, Northwestern. He has been featured on the Channel 4/Discovery Channel's The Deadliest Catch from the pilot through the first five seasons of the show. MARK SUNDEEN is the author of The Making of Toro and Car Camping.

WATCHING TV IN THE 80s

Television in the early 1980s was another world. There were still only three channels to watch; the evening’s programmes finished with the national anthem; and the biggest prize on TV was the speedboat on Bullseye…

But everything was about to change: in 1982, Channel 4 became the first new channel for almost twenty years and by the decade’s end Sky was vying to become Britain’s first multi-channel provider. British viewers suddenly had more choice than ever before.

In this poignant and witty memoir, Tom Bromley reflects on how his childhood was shaped by the changing face of 80s TV and on the pleasures it gave.

TOM BROMLEY is the author of We Could Have Been the Wombles, two music-related novels, and co-author of Rock and Pop Elevens. He lives in Salisbury.

SLAUGHTER, SENSATION AND SERIAL KILLERS: AN AMERICAN CRIMINAL ODYSSEY

A sweeping history of crime and the way we report it from one of America's most admired reporters

The Black Dahlia case. The Manson murders. The Zodiac Killer. The slaughter of Jon Benet Ramsay.

While many of us choose to avoid the news about gruesome murders, Bill James contends that these crime stories are as important to understanding our society, culture and history as anything else reported in the news. The book takes on such issues as the rise of an organized police force, the death penalty, fingerprinting and DNA, and the unexpected ways in which the most shocking crimes have shaped the criminal justice system and our perceptions of violence.

BILL JAMES made his journalistic mark in the 1970s and 1980s with his bestseller Baseball Abstracts. He lives in Kansas.

THE GREAT WAR DIARIES OF KENNETH BEST

First book in a series of powerful, true-life war diaries published in conjunction with the Imperial War Museum

Kenneth Best was a First World War chaplain who served at Gallipoli in 1915, a campaign notorious for its brutality and loss of life even by the standards of WWI.

In his diary, Best records his efforts to encourage frightened men before they go over the top, to comfort the wounded and, when the fighting stops, to bury the dead. His empathy for the troops is matched by a forthright disgust for their leaders, few of whom share his insight into the horrific realities of trench warfare.

GAVIN ROYNON served as a National Service Officer with the 13th/18th Royal Hussars during the Cold War and is the author of several non-fiction military history books. He lives in Berkshire with his family.

FROM THE FOUNDING FATHERS TO THE PRESENT DAY

In the tradition of Howard Zinn's classic A People's History of the United States, a provocative and absorbing new perspective on America's history

In this groundbreaking book, noted historian Thaddeus Russell tells a new and surprising story about the origins of American freedom. Rather than crediting the standard textbook icons, Russell demonstrates that it was those on the fringes of society whose subversive lifestyles helped legitimize the taboo and made America the land of the free.

This is not history that can be found in textbooks – it is a highly original and provocative portrayal of the American past as it has never been written before.

THADDEUS RUSSELL teaches history and American Studies at Occidental College and has taught at Columbia University, Barnard College, Eugene Lang College, and the New School for Social Research.

BRITAIN, FRANCE AND THE STRUGGLE THAT SHAPED THE MIDDLE EAST

The untold story of how British-French rivalry drew the battle-lines of the modern Middle East

In 1916, in the middle of the First World War, two men secretly agreed to divide the Middle East between them. Sir Mark Sykes was a visionary politician; François Georges-Picot a diplomat with a grudge. The deal they struck drew a line in the sand from the Mediterranean to the Persian frontier.

Through a stellar cast of politicians, diplomats, spies and soldiers, including T. E. Lawrence, Winston Churchill and Charles de Gaulle, A Line in the Sand vividly tells the story of the short but crucial era when Britain and France ruled the Middle East.

Using newly declassified papers from the British and French archives, James Barr brings this overlooked clandestine struggle back to life.

JAMES BARR is the author of Setting the Desert on Fire, a history of T.E. Lawrence and the secret war in Arabia.

Praise for Beautiful Shadow

'A superb, warts-and-all biography'

J.G. BALLARD, DAILY TELEGRAPH

A compelling and dramatic account of the sinking of the Titanic as seen through the eyes of those who survived

In the early hours of 15 April 1912, after the majestic liner Titanic had split apart and the 1,500 men, women and children struggled to stay alive in the freezing Atlantic, the sea was alive with the sound of screaming. Then, as the ship sank to the ocean floor and the passengers slowly died from hypothermia, a deathly silence settled over the sea. Yet the echoes of that night reverberated through the lives of each of the 705 survivors. Shadow of the Titanic tells the extraordinary stories of some of those who survived.

Timed to coincide with the 100th anniversary of the sinking, Shadow of the Titanic will shed new light on this enduringly fascinating story by showing how the disaster continued to shape the lives of a cross-section of passengers who escaped the sinking ship.

ANDREW WILSON has written for the Guardian, the Daily Mail and the Observer. He is the author of the critically acclaimed Beautiful Shadow: A Life of Patricia Highsmith.

THE FALL AND RISE OF MATT HAMPSON

The shocking, controversial, moving story of Matt Hampson, the rugby player who dislocated his neck and was paralysed in an England training session

'Engage!' was the last word Matt Hampson heard before dislocating his neck while in rugby training with other young England hopefuls.

Paul Kimmage went to visit Matt as he recuperated, and wrote a piece for the Sunday Times which won him his third successive SJA sports interviewer of the year award. They struck up a friendship and here, Paul tells Matt's whole story, in all its intimate detail. From the build-up to the dreadful day, to Matt's recuperation, to his struggle to adjust to normal life again, to his family and friends, this is a story of terrible sadness yet unadorned triumph and joy, of anger yet of reconciliation and peace…of a boy who became a man.

PAUL KIMMAGE has been named Sports Interviewer of the Year at the past five Sports Journalists' Association awards. He is the co-author of the critically acclaimed Full Time, the autobiography of Tony Cascarino.

WRITINGS ON CRICKET AND ITS DISCONTENTS

An insightful collection from leading cricket writer Gideon Haigh about the changing face of cricket and the struggle to save its soul

In the last three years, cricket has changed more completely than in the preceding three decades, revolutionised by a racy new format, Twenty20, and a glamorous new competition, the Indian Premier League. How did India come to run world cricket? How did clubs owned by billionaires and Bollywood stars begin to shove international competition aside? How did money unite players and divide administrators, amid allegations of massive corruption?

Gideon Haigh has followed cricket's biggest story since Kerry Packer's 'World Series' from the beginning: Sphere of Influence is the result. This insightful collection brings the struggle to save cricket's soul into sharp and disturbing focus.

GIDEON HAIGH has been writing about sport, business, both and neither, for twenty-seven years.

The best from a decade of the writing of Mike Atherton, the sports journalist of the year

In this fascinating book, Mike Atherton selects the best pieces he has written over the last decade.

It has been a dramatic period, seeing the rise of Twenty20 cricket and the IPL, as well as the revival of England's prospects, breaking a long era of Australian dominance in the Ashes. There has also been controversy, too, with terrorist attacks, Zimbabwe and allegations of Pakistani spot-fixing all distracting fans from the essence of the game. Through it all, Atherton comments with the true insight of one who has been there, the humane understanding of someone who has genuine empathy for the issues involved.

His writing has become essential reading for all sports fans. This book shows exactly why that is the case.

MIKE ATHERTON won 115 Test caps and captained his country 54 times. He became Cricket Correspondent of The Times in 2008 and also commentates for Sky Sports.

The long-awaited autobiography of Liverpool FC and Ireland legend, Ronnie Whelan

Ronnie Whelan was a mainstay of the iconic 1980s Liverpool FC side that won six League Championships, two FA Cups, three League Cups as well an unforgettable European Cup. Under the management of Kenny Dalglish, Whelan and his club team mates, including Alan Hansen, John Barnes and Bruce Grobbelaar, formed one of the finest club sides in English football history – a side that is dear to the hearts of Liverpool fans to this day.

It was also, though, a time of great tragedy; when the twin disasters of Heysel and Hillsborough devastated the club and its supporters. In this frank and full-hearted autobiography, Ronnie Whelan tells the story of the good and the bad times at the club, as well as his international career with Ireland.

RONNIE WHELAN was voted no.30 in a poll of Liverpool FC fans' favourite all-time players. He was capped for his country 53 times.

International rugby legend Lawrence Dallaglio returns with another collection of heroic tales from his time at rugby's biggest tournament

In World Cup Rugby Tales, World Cup-winning rugby legend Lawrence Dallaglio shares his favourite stories from his time at International rugby's greatest tournament. With razor-sharp wit and good humour he takes the reader behind the closed doors of the tournament, to see what happens on and off the pitch when the cameras aren't looking.

All the great names are here – Blanco, Lomu and Pienaar among them – and in his time Dallaglio has shared pints or blows (or both) with them all and has lived to tell the stories.

Funny, fearless and fully loaded with quick-fire banter these are the best of the best tales from the legends of the International stage.

A former captain of the English national team and World Cup winner, LAWRENCE DALLAGLIO played as a number eight for London Wasps and never played for another club, having arrived at Sudbury as a teenager.

For over half a century, Superstars have battled to win the WWE Championship. While the name may have changed, the prestige attached to the championship has exploded. He rediscovers its rugged coastline and spectacular views; he revisits old haunts, hooks up with long-lost friends and colleagues, and shares the nostalgic emotions evoked by these experiences. And he tackles the more complicated issues that led him to seek his fortunes elsewhere.

Inspired by the successful TV series and imbued with Terry's inimitable style – witty and urbane, relaxed yet engaging – this book stands as a fitting tribute not only to a beautiful, complex and contradictory nation, but to one of the BBC's longest-standing and most popular personalities.

TERRY WOGAN has been a leading broadcaster on radio and TV since the 1960s. His chat show Wogan was essential viewing in the 1980s and, up until his retirement in 2009, his Radio 2 show Wake Up to Wogan boasted a regular eight million listeners, making him the most popular radio host in Europe.
