The Archers: Home Fires at Ambridge

Miller, Catherine

It's 1941 and the war rumbles on. Nowhere is immune to the effects of war, not even Ambridge. But in England's favourite village, something else is occupying the residents... When a prominent villager dies, the main beneficiary's name is a mystery, and no one knows who is set to inherit the estate, cottage and all. The name is hidden within a locked box and the villagers much uncover the password to find out the name of the beneficiary. So when five people are each sent a packet of seeds, the mystery deepens - could the seeds be part of a clue? And can they all work together to unlock the mystery and to discover who is set to inherit? Beautifully produced, with stunning endpapers, this is the perfect read for all Archers fans.

I, Millennial

Ballard, Tom

After 30 years of his entitled Millennial life and one buy-now-pay-later pandemic, 'comedian' Tom Ballard has had enough of the smashed avocado jokes. He's furious at the raw deal his (and every subsequent) generation has been given, and he's pretty sure things can't be this crappy because of brunch. In his first book, he shows us how we got here and why the need for a radical change is no joke.

War in the Pacific

Harmsen, Peter

War in the Pacific - Storm Approaching 1931 - 1941 demonstrates how Japan and China's ancient enmity grew in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries leading to increased tensions in the 1930s which exploded into conflict in 1937. This book will take the relatively familiar stories – such as Guadalcanal, Iwo Jima – and place inside a much less well known global narrative.

A New Knight: Sam Kerr: Kicking Goals #2

Kerr, Sam

After a rough start, Sam Kerr gets into the swing of playing soccer for the Knights.

But there's so much to learn – new rules and positions and strategies ... Lately it seems like soccer is the only thing she can think about. When Sam finds out she'll have to wear a dress (gross) and dance in front of a hundred people (terrifying) at her cousin's upcoming wedding, she feels like she's all but had enough. So why isn't her best friend Indi supporting her? And why is school bully Chelsea suddenly a bit ... nice? Will Sam be able to mend her friendships – and score a few goals in the meantime – before it's too late?
